RE: Labeling for Irradiated foods

Please DO NOT reduce the current requirements for labeling of irradiated foods.
As a consumer I do not want to have to search for this valuable information.
I WILL NOT purchase foods that have been irradiated.
Older individuals with possibly weakened immune systems may also have reduced visual capabilities. These people (as all Americans) have a right to know.

Regards,

Rick Katterman

P.S. Is it financial interests that are pushing for reducing the public's right to know?
